

The participants to attend the Congress will be determined among academicians who are especially studying on their own countries. The academicians to present a declaration in the Congress will be requested to start with a short introduction on the vocational education history of their own country, to assess the current situations of the existing vocational education institutions and to inform about the objectives of their country on the field of vocational education for future.